“Brenda was my friend first, my co-worker second. She was one of the sweetest, nicest and caring persons I have ever had the privilege to have in my life for the past 5 years and this was not long enough. She was a person who cared so much for everyone she came in contact with and once you met her, you had to love her. I loved her like a sister. I can't say enough about her, but everything I know about her was good. We shared so much over the past 5 years. I've never had a co-worker that went way beyond her job to do so much for me and didn't have to ask her to do anything. She just did it and was like she knew what I needed. You always knew where you stood with Brenda, she would tell it just like it was, no trying to make it sound better or worse than it was. Needless to say, we had a bond like no other I have ever had with anyone. I have grieved in so many ways for her and I know it's going to be almost unbearable to continue working, knowing she won't be there. She lived and breathed for her family which she loved so much. Brenda, I have waited since your passing on May 8, to share this memory with your family and friends. I am still in shock and think sometime I am dreaming about you never being here on this earth to talk to me. I know you are in a much better place than all of us down here, going thru all the turmoil of this world, now. I will see you one day and we will pick up where we left off and never have to worry about anything, again. R.I.P. my dear friend until we meet again. Love to you, Doris Wiggins
