“ My brightest memories of Cindy are at Walnut Hill. We were working up and down the Gulf Coast so Gail and I didn't get to come home as often as we would like. When we did travel to Florida, we were sure to stop at Granddaddy Occie's and Aunt Gracie's. That's where everyone gathered. Us, the Phillips's, the McCullough's, the Heindl's and friends of the family.

We would gather there, either on the porch, or around the table in Aunt Gracie's kitchen, catching up on each other's lives. Talk about children, and work and plans for the future.

We were all young then, our hearts were lighter then and our entire lives lay before us. I think about the time we all spent together, the fun we had and the laughter. When I think back on it now, I can't remember anything bad. All of those memories are so precious, so good, so perfect.

It is those memories I choose to keep and revisit. When I think of Cindy, I think of her then, when we were all together on Granddaddy's front porch. It is there I see her, with Granddaddy and Aunt Gracie and all the other family members that have gone from us.

She is happy there, she is smiling and she's waiting there for all of us to arrive.

Sincerely,

MarkB...

Growing up in Walnut Hill was some of my fondest childhood memories. We had friends and cousins just down the road from each other. Cindy, Kay and I were always together playing. We were singers, movie stars anything we could imagine, we would act it out. We had to use our imagination because there were no cell phones, video games or anything like that then; thank God! I will always cherish those days and memories. We were all close and loved each other dearly. She will never be forgotten or will the memories. RIP Cindy; I love you!

First of all I agree with my sis Gail and my brother in law Mark on the above memories. When My momma Mabel and her sister my Aunt Margaret would go out at times, especially, at the state line Wagon Wheel, evwrytime was great. So as I was going through my divorce, Cindy and I went out in Atmore and we I trounced ourselves as Mabel and Margaret. It was so much fun. As some of the locals knew us and our parents, thoufor it was great. There were times I didn't have enough miey for me a Dr. Pepper, Cindy would buy her a cheaper pack of cigarettes so we both could get what we wanted. All the late night card games at Bo's trailer til 2 or 5 in the morning. The talks sitting and walking at the river. I when Steve Heindl was stationed at Ft. Rucker Alabama and we lived in Enterprise, Alabama Cindy and the kids came down for a few weeks. We had some much great times watching and jumping with the kids on the trampoline and me & her playing albums and dancing in our big dinning room area. When her hubby at the time was Randy and they got sta toned at Ft. Rucker. She and I would do ceramics and take the kids to the parks and play on the toys with them. Always in my heart cuz. Thanks for the Alabama this you have sent me over the years. Sure will miss our txts when Alabama plays. Roll Tide.. C U N Heaven
