“ Uncle Joe was my dad’s (John Wallace) youngest brother. Joe having served our country in the navy and dad serving army. Enjoyed when we visited Atmore and Uncle Joe would come from CA to visit. Always a tan and smile on his face. Loved the wind chimes he made and had one on my back porch for years. I am just learning of his passing as it is now January 2024 looking through some information I stumbled across this online. I asked and thought of you often Uncle Joe. Glad you are free now and by God’s grace you are at rest. ”

“ I hope you are at peace now and forever, I will miss you and I hope to see you again one day, if I get to go up there but I am not even sure if I will go up, I have been the black sheep in our family for so long that I have been unseen and unspoken to for so long that most of you probably wouldn't no me anymore, and if the truth be known I'll probably be going the opposite direction from my mother and my father, just wanted to say rest in peace and I will miss you every day for the rest of my life, love you dad Love always Jewel. ”
