“ This is coach Skip Bell. Bubba was a former student of mine at JUB. He later became a friend and we would talk and reminisce about his time in my class and at JUB in general. I have not seen him in a while, but I pray he is with God and his family finds peace.

“ I remember you, when you were just that little boy that was running around in the yard always asking me to ride that three wheeler or four wheeler. Then I saw you get out of school, and start a career in welding, and iron working. Next, I saw you mature into a man, who’s work ethic was get the job done, but always take care of your family. That integrity is the reason you were the youngest foreman that I ever set up, and worked in 37 years, and you were the only foreman, or supervisor that ever worked with me that I never had to doubt his word. What I’m trying to say is that if integrity, honesty, and loving your family with all of your heart, is what assures that you will be in a better place. Then I know you’re already sitting there telling jokes with some of your friends. I’ll miss you little buddy, but I’ll never forget you.

The past few days I've had thoughts of bubba in diapers when he was little waking up with a sucker stuck in his hair. And thoughts just last week of him snoring in the company truck wondering how he slept with Jared's driving. We were bonded by more than work and time, our paws paws were brothers. Bubba once told me that he thought u become a man when u care more about others than u do yourself. Amen to that. That's the bubba I knew. I didn't know his heart was headed for this but I do know where his soul is headed. Bubba knew God and he knew Jesus was the way. And I don't think I could say any words more true than that.
