“ Laying on Nanas bed as she read the bible EVERY night, she'd answer every question I had before I fell asleep while looking at the hundreds of glow in the dark stars she had on her bedroom ceiling.

Another memory I love is riding in the car while she sang every hymn, her strong perfume always filled the car up.

Playing the tambourine and singing at her church was one of my favorites growing up, I always went with Nana and Pawpaw to church!

She taught me how to highlight her bible, she taught me how to love others, how to forgive!

She was my Best Friend, she understood EVERYTHING I ever went through and she always made sure I knew Jesus was my strength and he was my comfort throughout my life.

Nana was the very definition of a Christian, she always made sure EVERYONE was fed and loved.

She radiated JESUS!!

My heart aches the worse pain I've ever felt in my life, but I KNOW she is made whole again and she's not hurting anymore.

Im so thankful to have had a Nana that loved me more than anyone else ever had.

She will never be forgotten!

I remember after hours of talking on my MANY visits to her, I'd wrap her up in my arms and kiss her on the forehead.

She'd say, you don't know how much I needed that hug!

So I'd hug her again really tight!

There is/was no greater hug than holding my Nana in my arms and feeling the love from her.

She never let us leave without holding up the I LOVE YOU sign until we were completely out of her sight.
